The word of the week must be displayed on your whiteboards and the children should be able to identify them weekly in assembly.

The words have been chosen to extend your class' vocabulary, so may seem at times look like an unusual word for a child in your class to use. Please use the word in a practical context, wherever possible and in a variety of modelled sentences to help the children understand what it means. All children should have an opportunity to write the word in a sentence, with additional support if needed.
